Blade Of Grass By Lewis DeSoto:

A Blade of Grass Lewis DeSoto, 2012-12-04 Mrit Laurens is a young woman of British descent who comes to live with her husband Ben on their newly purchased farm along the border of South Africa. Shortly after her arrival, violence strikes at the heart of Mrit's world. Devastated and confused but determined to run the farm on her own, Mrit finds herself in a simmering tug of war between the local Afrikaner community and the black workers who live on the farm, both vying for control over the land in the wake of tragedy. Mrit's only supporter is her black housekeeper Tembi, who like Mrit is alone in the world. Together, the women struggle to hold on to the farm, but the quietly encroaching civil war brings out conflicting loyalties that turn the fight for the farm into a fight for their lives. Thrilling to read, A Blade of Grass is a wrenching story of friendship and betrayal and of the trauma of the land that has shaped post-colonial Africa. Whitethorn Bryce Courtenay, 2011-05-20 In this sweeping novel of Africa in all its power, beauty, and savagery, Courtenay captures the life of a child and the life of a nation. Unbroken Laura Hillenbrand, 2014-07-29 1 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER The incredible true story of survival and salvation that is the basis for two major motion pictures, Unbroken and Unbroken Path to Redemption. Extraordinarily moving, a powerfully drawn survival epic, The Wall Street Journal hailed it as the top nonfiction book of the year by Time magazine. Winner of the Los Angeles Times Book Prize for biography. On a May afternoon in 1943, an Army Air Forces bomber crashed into the Pacific Ocean and disappeared, leaving only a spray of debris and a slick of oil, gasoline, and blood. Then, on the ocean surface, a face appeared. It was that of a young lieutenant, the plane's bombardier, who was struggling to a life raft and pulling himself aboard. So began one of the most extraordinary odysseys of the Second World War. The lieutenant's name was Louis Zamperini. In boyhood, he'd been a cunning and incorrigible delinquent, breaking into houses, brawling, and fleeing his home to ride the rails. As a teenager, he had channeled his defiance into running, discovering a prodigious talent that had carried him to the Berlin Olympics and within sight of the four-minute mile. But when war had come, the athlete had become an airman, embarking on a journey that led to his doomed flight, a tiny raft, and a drift into the unknown. Ahead of Zamperini lay thousands of miles of open ocean, leaping sharks, a foundering raft, thirst and starvation, enemy aircraft, and beyond, a trial even greater. Driven to the limits of endurance, Zamperini would answer desperation with ingenuity, suffering with hope, resolve, and humor; brutality with rebellion. His fate, whether triumph or tragedy, would be suspended on the fraying wire of his will. Laura Hillenbrand writes with the same rich and vivid narrative voice she displayed in Seabiscuit. Telling an unforgettable story of a man's journey into extremity, Unbroken is a testament to the resilience of the human mind, body, and spirit. Nightwatching Meira Cook, 2015-05-19 One hot, lonely summer in the Orange Free State of South Africa, feisty Ruthie Blackburn finds herself at odds with everyone around her. She squirms under the watchful eye of her nanny Miriam and bristles at the neighbour's gardener's boy Sip, who follows her everywhere and is her only friend. But mostly, she misses her distracted widower father, who is more absent each day. Ruthie runs reckless through the bleary, dull days of summer until the monotony is interrupted by the arrival of two guests from the big city The events of this one weekend will alter the course of Ruthie s adolescence and lead to a devastating tragedy Set against the shifting political tensions of the late 1970s and written in prose that is both poetic and evocative Ruthie and Sip powerfully captures a young girl s sudden end of innocence

Missouri Landscapes Jon L. Hawker,1992 In this magnificent book Oliver Schuchard provides more than sixty five exquisite black and white photographs spanning his thirty eight years of photography In addition he explains the aesthetic rationale and techniques he used in order to produce these photographs emphasizing the profound differences between yet necessary interdependence of craft and content Although Schuchard believes that craft is important he maintains that the idea behind the photograph and the emotional content of the image are equally vital and are in fact functions of one another The author also shares components of his life experience that he believes helped shape his development as an artist and a teacher He chose the splendid photographs included in this book from among nearly 5 000 negatives that had been exposed all over the world from Missouri to Maine California Alaska Colorado France Newfoundland and Hawaii among many other locations Approximately 250 negatives survived the initial review and each of those was printed before a final decision was made on which photographs were to be featured in the book The final choices are representative of Schuchard s work and serve to substantiate his belief that craft concept and self must be fully understood and carefully melded for a good photograph to occur This amazing work by award winning photographer Oliver Schuchard will be treasured by professional and amateur photographers alike as well as by anyone who simply enjoys superb photography Publishers website

Trauma, Memory, and Narrative in the Contemporary South African Novel, 2012-01-01

The contributions to this volume probe the complex relationship of trauma, memory, and narrative. By looking at the South African situation through the lens of trauma, they make clear how the psychic deformations and injuries left behind by racism and colonialism cannot be mended by material reparation or by simply reversing economic and political power structures. Western trauma theories as developed by scholars such as Caruth, van der Kolk, Herman, and others are insufficient for analysing the more complex situation in a postcolony such as South Africa. This is because Western trauma concepts focus on the individual traumatized by a single identifiable event that causes PTSD (Post Traumatic Stress Disorder). What we need is an understanding of trauma that sees it not only as a result of an identifiable event but also as the consequence of an historical condition. In the case of South Africa, that of colonialism and more specifically of apartheid. For most black and coloured South Africans, the structural violence of apartheid's laws were the existential condition under which they had to exist. The living conditions in the townships, pass laws, relocation, and racial segregation affected great parts of the South African population and were responsible for the collective traumatization of several generations. This trauma, however, is not an unclaimed and unclaimable experience. Postcolonial thinkers who have been reflecting on the experience of violence and trauma in a colonial context, writing from within a Fanonian tradition, have on the contrary believed in the importance of reclaiming the past and of transcending mechanisms of victimization and resentment so typical of traumatized consciousnesses. Narration and the novel have a decisive role to play here.

The Empathy Exams, Leslie Jamison, 2014-04-01

From personal loss to phantom diseases, The Empathy Exams is a bold and brilliant collection, winner of the Graywolf Press Nonfiction Prize. A Publishers Weekly Top Ten Essay Collection of Spring 2014. Beginning with her experience as a medical actor who was paid to act out symptoms for medical students to diagnose, Leslie Jamison's visceral and revealing essays ask essential questions about our basic understanding of others: How should we care about each other? How can we feel another's pain, especially when pain can be assumed, distorted, or performed? Is empathy a tool by which to test or even grade each other? By confronting pain, real and imagined, her own and others', Jamison uncovers a personal and cultural urgency to feel. She draws from her own experiences of illness and bodily injury to engage in an exploration that extends far beyond her life, spanning wide-ranging territory from poverty to tourism, to phantom diseases, street violence to reality television, illness to incarceration. In its search for a kind of sight shaped by humility and grace.
